Dear Sir

Thank you for your letter dated 24 February 1991 in which you set out clearly, and helpfully, the future direction of treatment of factor VIII deficient patients in Scotland. I am glad to note that in Scotland and Northern Ireland, as compared to England and Wales, there will be a whole hearted commitment to a new high potency product and while that does not accord with our formal and published policy on blood products which you would have seen in our most recent Bulletin, it is nonetheless a step in the right direction.

I may be in touch again after I have had an opportunity to discuss your letter with the relevant officers of the Society.

Sincerely

David G. Watters
