My Dear Christopher

Very many thanks for your most constructive letter of the 30th June 1987.

It does seem, as you say, that we have some communication problems and I'm delighted that you share my view they should and can be put right.

My Secretary has already arranged an appointment (25th August at 10.00 a.m.) following my letter of 9th June. This was the earliest time available due to annual leave and other commitments and I wonder whether we could meet one evening at my home as an alternative?

Kindest regards,

Yours sincerely

John D Cash

P.S. You deserve a good deal more than congratulations for your performance at Brussels last week - but I'm not sure how to express it: something, I think, related to maintaining scientific integrity!
